“ WOW, this is a tough one to write. Donna, I am so sorry for you and your family. Gary and I have been friends since teen years. Like most people in this little town, you still find room to drift apart. Although you don't remain "buddy buddy", you remain friends. Gary was just that. We had a lot of fun over the years, drinks, parties at Dickie and Barb's, staying out late when we where younger until the sun came up. It was always fun to see Gary and tell an old story. We had fun my friend. I will miss hearing "Hey DT". RIP my friend, save me a seat at the bar and try to finish all those stinking cigars before I get there.
