“ George was an old friend and golfing buddy from my days working at the Corps of Engineers. I hadn't seen him for a number of years, but I am glad I reached out to him a couple of Christmases ago after I found out he was sick. After receiving my card and brief note, he responded with a long, hand-printed letter on loose leaf paper. I am glad I have that to remember him by, along with the memories of golfing with him in the past. I still say the funniest speech I ever heard at a retirement luncheon was by George. He will be sorely missed. He was one of a kind. My condolences to his wife and the rest of his family. He will not be forgotten.

“ I wanted to express my condolences for your loss. In reading George's life journey, it is evident he was dedicated in service to the community and touched the hearts of those he loved. Something that has helped many to cope with the death of a love one, is knowing how much compassion Jesus has for the pain of others. He expressed it when he was moved with pity and wept after seeing the tears of someone suffering (Luke 7:12-15). This Bible account gives us a wonderful hope of the resurrection of our love ones. Also, God promises the tears of loss we shed today, will be removed forever (Revelation 21:3-4). I hope you find comfort in these wonderful promises from God.

“ I am so sorry for your loss. I used to play golf with George in the Corp. league. It was always a pleasure to see his team as the one we were playing that particular week. Even though George was older, with both of us being born in Detroit we had a lot in common and talking with him was always a pleasure.

My Condolences and Regards
