“ You were always technically my "favorite" cousin. You were funny, loving, caring, and always there when someone needed someone to talk to. You never judged we all have demons they just come in different forms but we put it all in gods hands. One of our last conversations was no matter what i had your back you had mine even when we disagreed and we never had a conversation without me letting you know how loved you were. I love you always. Keep an eye on us down here i know you and aunt donna have us covered!
