“ I don't know the words to say how I feel. I just talked to you again Wednesday. I knew things were bad but never dreamed of this happening. I can't stop thinking about you and all the good times we had. If it wasn't for all the funny things I think of that we done I would have nothing. I'm completely lost knowing you are no longer a part of my life. I know as time passes by things will get a little easier but for now I'm devastated that you are gone and that I couldn't have done more. Who is going to call me now and tell me something really funny you have done and laugh with, or bring something up from the past that we crack up laughing at? Who is going to go see Trace with me. I can't replace you nor would it be possible to try. You was still my daughter and have been every since we met. You will continue to have a place in my heart although it is a broken one.

I never knew anyone who had a heart as big as yours, you just didn't realize how many people knew that and loved you. If only you would have believed me when I told you the friends and family that loved you. I am going to miss you bunches girlfriend but I have been given some wonderful memories of friendship, laughter, and love by you.
