HI

“ Timmy, God Bless Your Soul. Truly a loving and good man to family and friends. Tim was an enthusiastic sports fan and participant. He was one of the staunchest followers of the champion football team whose only name he knew and would accept them by, his Washington Redskins. As most everyone knew, Golf was a game he loved to play every chance he could. He could hit that ball a mile. He couldn't putt though. As he often said, "Thanks for the 'give me putts' and the eraser on my score pencil". Hunting, he always enjoyed for the camaraderie, the outdoor experience and the thrill of the hunt. I think he purposely often aimed high to miss many a target... a soft heart.

I remember Tim most as my youngest brother, a cute little guy who eventually grew into a strong handsome man.

His catch phrase he must have used thousands of times when he was excited about something or wanted to express dramatic effect in a happy situation was 'GREAT GOGAMOGA'. I imagine he used it going thru the Pearly Gates this week. 🙏❤️
